

Law Society of South Australia
Book Reviews May 2020

Native Title in Australia

R Bartlett

4th ed LexisNexis 2020

PB $175.00

Abstract from LexisNexis

Native Title in Australia, 4th ed is a comprehensive and authoritative work that provides the reader with an understanding of both the current operation of native title in Australia and its historical and political background and development. It covers the nature of the concept, its proof, content and extinguishment, explains the validation of past grants and acts and the limited degree of protection from future acts, examines compensation for native title, and discusses the application of native title principles to resource development and traditional pursuits. It considers both the common law and the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth).

Powers of Attorney

G dal Pont

3rd ed LexisNexis Butterworths 2020

PB $155.00

Abstract from LexisNexis

The prevalence of powers of attorney --- particularly enduring powers of attorney--- makes this book increasingly important over time, especially in view of Australia's ageing population. Powers of Attorney 3rd ed is not confined to Australian law but uses law from the principal common law countries to contextualise our law, and to provide guidance where Australian law may be lacking.

Financial Planning in Australia: Advice and Wealth Management

S Taylor

9th ed LexisNexis 2020

PB $160.00

Abstract from LexisNexis

Financial Planning in Australia: Advice and Wealth Management explains in clear and plain language the concepts, vehicles and strategies required for providing sound advice on creating, investing, and managing personal wealth. Focusing on individual wealth-management problems, it provides an overview of the financial planning environment and discusses core principles and key practices.

This 9th edition considers recent changes to the law, including the Financial Adviser Standards and Ethics Authority (FASEA) Code of Ethics that becomes mandatory from January 2020. In light of tighter regulation arising from the Royal Commission into Misconduct in the Banking, Superannuation and Financial Services Industry, this book has introduced a new chapter on Ethics and Professionalism that explores conflict of interest dilemmas for advising professionals.